On this day they assemble - through the hills and the valleys, by the ocean shore, and on the mountain top; from the chilly North, where, in the watery chase, the bold adventurer smites the Leviathan of the flood, to that generous and genial South, - Where the citron and olive are fairest of fruit, And the voice of the nightingale never is mute - In the halls of public legislation - in the open air - beneath the umbrage of the leafy woods - in the temples raised up in honour of the living God, they congregate - to celebrate the epoch of their birth as a Nation - to pour out their gratitude to the Author of all good for the blessings which he still continues to shower upon them - for the complete success with which, in his wisdom and goodness, he was pleased to crown the labours, the sacrifices, the blood, and peril of their fathers in the season of severest trial, and to bind around the monuments of the brave, the patriotic, the dead, but the unforgotten, the fragrant ever green wreath of the People s gratitude. It is meet that this day should be ever kept holy. It will ever refresh, it will ever profit, to contemplate the truths contained in the Declaration which you have just heard read, and to dwell upon the history of...
