Reviews

Very good electronic book and valuable one. It is actually written in basic words instead of difficult to understand. I discovered this ebook from my i and dad encouraged this publication to discover.

It is beautifully written in the clear and careful handwriting of a professional clerk, and it gives a unique picture of a bishops life in England 200 years ago. Francis Evans was, like his master, a Welshman. He followed the Bishop from St. Asaph to Lichfield, and from Lichfield to Worcester. His father, John Evans, kept the Bell Inn at Oswestry. Frank seems to have married above his position, for his wife was the daughter of the Lord of the Manor of Snelston in Derbyshire. He was a most faithful and diligent scribe. He chronicled every thing, events great and small - the death of King William III., and the death of the deer in the park; the Consecration of a church, and the appointment of a gamekeeper; the Livings in the Bishops gift, and the haunches of venison sent to the Bishops friends; the places where he himself lay each night, and the friends with whom his Lop dined. He was hardworking and energetic, constantly riding about the country on business. He made long journeys on horseback, sometimes sleeping in a different bed each night for three months on end. He met with many adventures; for instance, at Tredington, where ye room above stairs fell under us; though there were many persons in it, and many below, wee...
